

Examples of singular diffusion equations in one and two dimension: facets and more

Piotr Mucha

Institute of Applied Mathematics and Mechanics, The University of Warsaw, Poland

p.mucha@mimuw.edu.pl

Monika Muszkieta

Institute of Mathematics and Computer Science, Wrocław University of Technology, Poland

monika.muszkieta@pwr.wroc.pl

Piotr Rybka

Institute of Applied Mathematics and Mechanics, The University of Warsaw, Poland

rybka@mimuw.edu.pl

We focus on a simple singular diffusion equation (i.e. a total variation flow in 1-d) and its counterpart regularized by additive linear diffusion. We study these two equations in one and two dimensions. After quickly establishing existence, uniqueness and regularity we concentrate on creation, evolution and interaction of facets. We also exhibit a number of explicit solutions.